

Perceiving Color

The additive primary colors

Color signals from only the green cones tell the brain the leaf is green

A strong signal from the red cones and a weaker signal from the green cones tell the brain the fruit is orange

